Nomad Aviation appoints Paul van der Blom as its Vice President Aircraft Management Sales to strengthen the sales team.

Zurich, 08 August 2018 - Nomad Aviation has appointed Paul van der Blom as the company's Vice President for Aircraft Management Sales. Paul is in charge of business development and sales and is part of the company's management team.

Paul van der Blom has more than twenty years of aviation experience. Before joining Nomad Aviation Paul was with DC Aviation Al-Futtaim, Dubai, where he was Director Commercial, notably developing the aircraft management fleet and was instrumental in establishing the company as a full-fledged business aviation services provider. Prior to that, Paul held various executive positions in aircraft management sales, aircraft sales and brokerage, FBO and maintenance business development with Hawker Pacific in Singapore, ExecuJet in Dubai, Avolus Dubai and TAG Aviation in Geneva, Switzerland. He worked for Airbus Toulouse, France, as Director Aircraft Sales, both airliners and Airbus Corporate Jets.

"As Paul already worked in the business aviation industry in various sales, business development and executive functions he is a highly appreciated hands-on professional to strengthen Nomad Aviation", says Thomas Koehli, the company's CEO and adds: "with the appointment of Paul we're able to further bolster sales and continue on the Nomad Aviation growth strategy." "He displays an excellent expertise and knowledge, and I am delighted to welcome him to our team", adds Heinz Koehli, Executive Chairman of Nomad Aviation.

Paul holds a Master of Science (MSc) degree in Aerospace Engineering of the Dutch Delft University of Technology and performed various management courses at IMD Lausanne, Switzerland.
