MEDIA RELEASE

Nomad Aviation has successfully introduced a Gulfstream G650ER available for Charter.

Zurich/Switzerland, May 23rd, 2024 - Nomad Aviation is excited to announce that it has successfully phased in an almost brand-new Gulfstream G650ER to its growing charter fleet. The as HB-JLO registered aircraft has joined Nomad Aviation's Swiss AOC on May 1st, 2024.

The aircraft's stylishly laid out cabin is fitted with 14 luxury passenger seats throughout three living areas, including eight business seats in a four-place double club configuration and six divan seats. For maximum connectivity and entertainment, the aircraft features high-speed KU band internet which is accessible via dedicated large iPads or from passengers' own devices. With a maximum range of 7'500 nautical miles this aircraft connects cities once considered unreachable by private jets.

"Just three weeks after the introduction of this state-of-the-art aircraft, we can already look back on several seamless Atlantic crossings and a much higher number of charter hours performed than expected. The Switzerland based G650ER has already created enormous interest and has come just in time for the busy spring and upcoming summer season. We are very pleased to have added the second Gulfstream G650ER to our fleet and take pride in delivering a full range of VIP charter options, the highest level of service and equipment; and this particular aircraft supports this mission perfectly well", says Christoph Thurnherr, Vice President Aircraft Management and Charter Sales.

"This addition to our fleet supports Nomad Aviation's success story and is a result of the hard work put in by our entire team. The G650ER reinforces Nomad Aviation's presence in the VIP charter segment and ideally complements Nomad Aviation's three-strong charter fleet comprising of a Gulfstream G450, a Bombardier Global 5000 and an Airbus ACJ319", adds Thomas Köhli, CEO of Nomad Aviation.
